MUSIC.

Soul of Thought in vibrant speech to kindred keys of respondent sympathy.

Breathing heart of Infinite Life in hallowed tune.

The seven tongues of Melody that measure (1) the depth of Mercy, (2) the height of Hope, (3) the breadth of Beauty, (4) the power of Glory, (5) the magnitude of Love, (6) the length of Eternity (7) and the omnipresence of God.

Sweet spirit echoes of the angels who have sung themselves to sleep

Sighing longings and smiling faiths.

Aolian breeze from the wings of night fanning the sparks of resplendent dreams.

Gliding tears of intoxicating pleasures streaming from the great ocean of Emotion trickling o'er and turning the Wheel of Life that stirs the pulse of the human heart.

Heaving billows of Sadness and whirling eddies of Joy.

Soothing, soft and low lullabies of the western winds to the tired eyelids of Care and fainting Spirit.

Crooning, crowing simplicities of the unworried infant messages from Heaven.

Welling waves of ecstasy and the whispering tides of "Peace be still."

Rolling notes of the rocking cradle and rumbling tones of the "cloud drop" from the sunken casket of Death.

COL. ROOSEVELT BEATS SHERMAN

Routs Old Guard in Fight for Chairmanship.

STRUGGLE WAS BITTER

Ousts Bosses' Followers From Committee and Appoints Progressives. Roosevelt's Speech.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, defeated in the Republican state convention at Saratoga, N. Y., Vice President James S. Sherman, of Utica, for the office of temporary chairman of the convention by a vote of 567 to 445.

Vice President Sherman and Cornelius V. Collins were designated to escort Colonel Roosevelt to the platform. Mr. Sherman congratulated Colonel Roosevelt on his election.

The old guard leaders, headed by William Barnes, Jr., Speaker James W. Wadsworth, Jr., and their friends said that they were not at all dismayed, not at all overcome by Colonel Roosevelt's victory.

Colonel Roosevelt's selection was followed later in the convention proceedings by performances which are without precedent in Republican conventions held in the state of New York since the organization of the party a little over fifty years ago. During all those years it has been the practice in selecting the various committees of the convention, like permanent organization, credentials, rules and platform for the delegates of each congressional district to select the committee for those committees, subject to approval by the state committee of the congressional districts, and these committees are thereupon accepted by the convention.

After Colonel Roosevelt's victory no delegate representing the old guard was permitted to offer the resolutions calling for the appointment of these committees. Only delegates friendly to Colonel Roosevelt and his adherents offered the resolutions for the appointment of a committee, and these Roosevelt delegates introduced their resolutions for the appointment of the committees with this final clause "and that the temporary chairman of this convention have authority to name the committees," meaning the committee on credentials, the committee on rules, the committee on permanent organization and the committee on platform.

Colonel Roosevelt, as temporary chairman, celebrated the unlimited power given to him by first striking at Vice President Sherman. The Oneida-Herkimer congressional district delegation, the vice president's own delegation, had recommended for the platform committee William H. Schwellzger, a Sherman follower. Colonel Roosevelt struck out Mr. Schwellzger's name and substituted that of ex-Assemblyman Mervin K. Hart, who supported Senator Davenport.

Colonel Roosevelt, following up this stroke, displaced Timothy L. Woodruff from the committee on platform and substituted the name of Comptroller William A. Prendergast, and for Jacob A. Livingston, state committee man, who had been recommended by his delegation for a place on the committee on platform, Colonel Roosevelt substituted Marcus B. Campbell. Roosevelt's Speech.

The main points in Colonel Roosevelt's speech are the following: "During the last eighteen months a long list of laws embodying legislation most heartily to be commended as combining wisdom with progress, have been enacted by congress and approved by President Taft."

"These, and similar laws, backed up by legislative action, reflect high credit upon congress and to our able, upright and distinguished president, William Howard Taft."

"Of course, with a party as long in control of nation and state as ours has been, there have been individual instances of misconduct and corruption. But there is no need of any other party raising the cry of 'Turn the rascals out,' for we have turned our own rascals out."

"We are against corruption in politics; we are against corruption in business, and, above all, and with all our strength, we are against the degrading alliance of crooked business and crooked politics, the alliance which strengthens the already powerful corrupt boss and to the already powerful corrupt head of big business, and which makes them in their dual capacity enemies against whom every patriotic man should stand with unwavering firmness."

"Let no man say that this is an assault upon the honest business man. That is as foolish as to say that it is an assault upon the upright political leader."

"In short, our attitude is merely that we stand for honesty as well as for progressiveness and for efficiency."

"It is absolutely essential that the people should exercise self-control and self-mastery, and he is a foe to popular government who in any way caused them to lose such self-control and self-mastery."

"We should at once introduce in this state the system of direct nominations in the primaries, so that the people shall be able themselves to decide who the candidates shall be, instead of being limited merely to choosing between candidates with whose nomination they have had nothing to do."

Taft Orders Civil Service Extension

Includes Assistants, Recommend 2d and 3d-Class Postmasters.

The first definite result of the present cabinet sessions in Washington has been the announcement that President Taft will issue an executive order extending the civil service to include all assistant postmasters.

The president also will recommend to congress that second and third class postmasters be placed under civil service. This action is in line with Postmaster General Hitchcock's recommendations. By this order some $900 assistant postmasters will be affected.

The cabinet took up in detail the departmental estimates for the coming year. General Wood, before the cabinet met, went over the war department estimates with the president in the absence of Secretary of War Dickinson.

Mr. Taft also discussed with his cabinet the speech he is to deliver in New York Saturday night. This is expected to be Mr. Taft's last political utterance of the campaign.

CHOLERA WORSE IN NAPLES

There were thirty-two new cases and twenty-six deaths from the cholera in Naples, Italy, on Monday.

A number of persons have died in the streets and the popular excitement is such that the police have great difficulty in maintaining public order. It is reported that 100,000 persons of the better classes have already fled from Naples.

Highwaymen to Be Whipped.

Clarence Rothwell and Fred Jackson, both colored, found guilty of highway robbery, were sentenced in criminal court at Wilmington, Del., to forty lashes and three years' imprisonment each. Joseph Douglass, of Odessa, testified that he was knocked down by Jackson and Rothwell took his watch.

Looking For Pity.

"Johnny, your mother wants you."

"What for?"

"I think she wants to give you a licking."

"Oh, dear! Where is there a piece of glass I can step on?"

Caution.

"He called me a liar."

"And did you hit him?"

"No."

"Why not?"

"I don't like to start anything on Friday."

THE CAPTAIN OF OUR SALVATION.

A Lay Sermon by Evangeline.

"For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons into glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through suffering."

Hebrews II, 10.

The reader will at once recognize the above as the language of that astute reasoner, St. Paul, and to get the full meaning of the text we should turn to the 2nd chapter of the Apostle Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews and read the whole context.

In the age in which the Apostle Paul wrote, the military titles now commonly used, such as major, colonel and general were not in vogue. Captain was the highest military title then known. When, therefore, the Apostle spoke of our Lord and Saviour as "Captain," he sought to confer upon him the highest title of the commander of an army.

And, indeed, he had the best authority for using this title in connection with our Saviour, as the reader will readily see by turning to the V Chapter of Joshua, 13-15, which reads as follows: "And it came to pass when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and behold, there stood a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand; and Joshua went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries? And he said, Nay; but as Captain of the host of the Lord am I now come. And Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and did worship him, and said unto him, What saith my Lord unto his servant? And the Captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so."

This incident occurred at the siege of Jericho by the army of Israel.

In such of these cases, our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ is the Captain meant. If, therefore, the Captain of our salvation was made perfect through suffering, we, his followers, ought not to murmur when called upon to suffer, but bear patiently such burdens as He, in His wisdom may see fit to lay upon us knowing that He will not put more upon us than we are able to bear.

And even if the burden should at any time seem too grievous to bear, He has not left us without comfort and encouragement; for, is it not He who says: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matt. XI, 28.

Again, if He is the Captain of our salvation, why need we fear and live in jeopardy all our lives? As Captain He will arrange and set the battle in array. All we have to do, as good soldiers, is to obey His commands and leave the result to Him; for He is a Captain who has never lost a battle.

We are, then, doubly safe, as long as we keep up in His ranks and obey His commands.

All soldiers are liable to be wounded. The good ones much more so than any, because they will always be found in the front of the battle. But, because they should be wounded is no reason why they should desert from the army.

Remember that our Captain is a great Physician as well as a great Captain. He is able, not only to heal but to make the dead alive!

So Odd. One day succeeds another. In constant, steady flow. It's Sunday, Monday, Tuesday. All standing in a row. With weeks and months together. All added make a year. Without a bit of trouble. Now, doesn't it seem queer?

Some twenty toes and fingers Are tucked upon a man. You simply can't explain it. It's part of nature's plan. And arms and legs are needed To make the man complete. So he can tend to business. Now, don't that frost your feet?

The sun shines in the daytime. We have the moon at night. And when there isn't either We're mighty dry on light. It's just a little better. If several stars are there To scatter feeble flickers. Now, don't that scorch your hair?

We marvel at the wonders. Our mouths are open wide. So that a person standing In front could see inside. We float around on water. We walk abroad on land. And eat when we are hungry. Say, don't it beat the band?

A Winner.

"I'd like to see anybody who knows how to manage a woman."

"You would, eh?"

"I certainly would."

"Then look at me."

"How do you do it?"

"Ask her first what she wants done and then do exactly as she says."

Similar.

"So this is the man who stole the chickens."

The prisoner didn't say a word.

"But tell me, how did he get past the dog?"

"It's owner," explained the officer.

"Is a Wall street broker, and the poor dog didn't know the difference between the two at night."

Nothing on earth is so valuable as a human mind. If a diamond is worth polishing at great trouble and cost, much more is the mind of a boy or young man worth all the polishing that the schools can give it. The best education is not too good for a promising youth. Who would choose a poor physician to save a few cents when health is in danger? And who would choose an inferior school to save a few dollars when a better school will increase the strength of character and of mind for life and prepare one for a larger usefulness?
